Colin Smith’s commentary

Another strong quarter for CANO fund as it continues to gain momentum and outperform major indexes in a volatile market for all. This is mainly down to strategic reweighting of positions coupled with high quality asset allocation. Thanks to our active team leading the way with a 360 degree approach.
There has been some significant moves by major institutions recently and the plentiful news from a geo politically stand point. Our robust filter helps us identify durable assets in the current market with an eye for future growth and longevity. We in turn have continued flexibility to manoeuvre quickly keeps us at the forefront of market movements.
